"The 5 Secret Kissing Techniques Which Will Instantly Drive Your Guy Wild"

Men don't like kissing! Nothing could be further from the truth. It is a common misconception that men do not like the act of kissing, however, in actual fact they love it.

This misconception stems from the different ways in which men and women think.

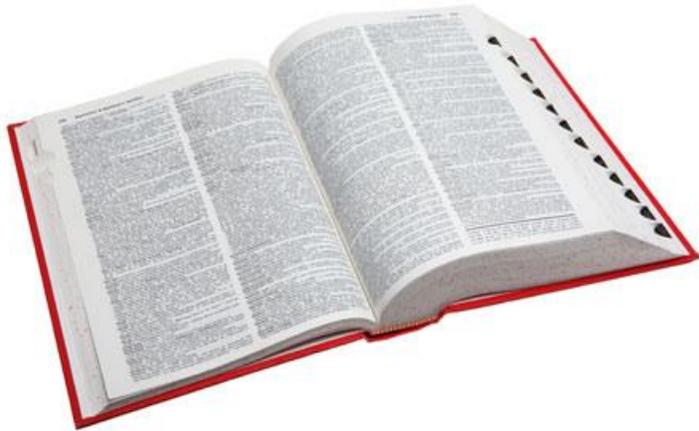

Women view the act of kissing as a part of a larger romantic event, while men, for the most part tend to think of kissing as a means to an end - the sexual act. Men inherently try to hide their softer, feeling side as they often view it as a sign of weakness and lack of manliness.

Once they are in the act of kissing, and experience the response of their female partner, they generally enjoy it immensely. It gives them a feeling of empowerment by feeding their natural ego, and making them feel like great lovers. Herein lies your challenge. You must make your guy feel as though he is bringing out the sexual side in you - whether or not you are initiator, or he is.

Believe it or not, there is an actual science of kissing called philematology, and is studied by many experts around the world. These people come up with all kinds of facts like, 90% of all people kiss at least once per day, two thirds of kissers tip their heads to the right, and frequent kissing can increase life expectancy.

However, for our purposes, we will focus on the sensual aspects of kissing and how you as a woman can kiss your guy to drive him crazy. The bottom line is that a long passionate kiss will inevitably stimulate a sexual response in both the woman and the man, and the focus here is to give you ideas to make it better.

DEFINITION OF KISSING

Dictionary.com defines kissing as follows:

"To touch or press with the lips slightly pursed, and then often to part them and to emit a smacking sound, in an expression of affection, love, greeting, and reverence".

Not a bad description, however, it does not accurately describe the feelings and emotions which occur in a passionate kiss. In reality, a man and a woman kiss in order to satisfy and stimulate their natural and inherent drive for sexual activity. This hunger is instinctive, that is, we are born with it, all of us, and we cannot learn it or acquire it in any other way than to experience it.

The act of kissing creates a harmonious vibration in two people, on both a physical and emotional level which can be evidenced by the complete mental change which occurs, as well as the rhythmical contraction of the muscles of both people.

In addition, a passionate kiss will increase blood flow to sensual areas of the body giving rise to, pardon the pun, to an erection of the penis in the man and hardening of the nipples in the woman.

Further, nerve endings in other areas of the body such as the ears, fingers, toes, stomach, and more, become extremely sensitive to touch, stroking, licking, and biting. Finding these areas and learning how and when to trigger them will take the experience to a much higher sensual level. This in turn releases certain hormones into the blood stream thus creating a sexual reaction in each other's body.

Although very important in keeping a relationship alive and moving forward, we are not going to focus on the simple "I love you kind of kiss" generally associated when your partner is going off to work or some other activity.

As promised in the title of this report, we will focus on kissing techniques which will drive your guy crazy and lead to a session of mad passionate love making. In a nut shell, kissing is the starting point of satisfying our natural sexual hunger leading the sexual activity and ultimately orgasm.

Shall we begin the journey into the KISS OF PASSION, SKILL, and SATISFACTION?

THE BUTTERFLY KISS

Let's start with the art of Butterfly kissing. Butterfly kissing is a close and intimate kiss. It is best experienced when you are laying or sitting very close to your mate. You can feel their breath on your face. Slowly and intimately lean into your partner's face and quickly bat your eyes onto the cheek of your partner.

Experiment by moving from cheek, to forehead and end on the lips of your partner. It feels like soft butterflies gently flitting on your face. Most people make the mistake of doing this for only a second or two. The erotica that is associated with butterfly kisses goes beyond the first feeling of "do they like it?" when performed correctly, to an experience of tantalizing expectation.

Start by moving in close to your mate. As they lean in for a traditional kiss, gently place your hand on his/her chest, being the universal signal that things are moving too fast. Now you have the upper hand. Lean in resting your head on the chest of your mate. Whether man or woman, your partner is going to feel a connection and closeness - now is the time to act.

Move up slowly, batting your eyes against the cheek of your partner. This tickles, but in all the right places. Now move slowly across to the lips and bat more quickly, this is an erotic sensation and can cause a rise in temperature as well as a physical engorgement.

If your mate starts to move in for the "kiss" gently place your hand on his or her chest. This move of AUTHORITY is not only exciting, but leads into the

“what is going to happen next” thought process, which leads to even more excitement.

Now move up to the other cheek, in a quiet breath say “close your eyes.” The ANTICIPATION is killing him! Gently and skillfully bat your eyelashes over their eyelids. This erotic move is not only Machiavellian, or taking control, but rather erotic and sensually stimulating.

Your mate will be tantalized and waiting for the next part. Move slowly across the other cheek, up to the forehead, down to the lips and move in for the next kiss.

THE GENTLE TENDER KISS

This is the precursor to other kisses and foreplay. You move to the lips of your partner and gently with a closed mouth brush your lips across his. Do not linger. This is the tantalizer that creates a stir in the groin.

Gently kiss and move to a snuggle position. Although it feels like a simple peck on the lips, it is a ramping up for things to come. Return to the lips after a moment of tenderness in his arms.

Again, a slight but tender brush of the lips, and breathe deeply as your lips meet. Move to the other shoulder for a gentle hug. These moments should be savored, enjoyed, and experienced like a fine wine. Soft and delicate. anticipation will grow as the blood starts pumping and the intimate kisses can now move into the next phase, a more passionate and demanding kiss.

We must keep in mind, as we move into the open mouthed kiss, all the aspects of a kiss. As already stated a kiss is very intimate. But have you ever really thought about it? A kiss involves all the senses. Smell, taste, sight, sound and touch. There are more 100 times more nerve endings in the lips than in the fingertips, which explains one reason why kissing is so satisfying and electrifying.

THE OPEN MOUTHED KISS - START YOUR ENGINES

So before you embark on the full on open mouthed kiss, think about these things.

1. How is your breath? Breath starts in the stomach, not the mouth, so if you are going to be kissing avoid garlic, onions and other things that could cause a limp reaction.
2. Are you clean? Again, you are as close to your partner as intimately possible before you both become sweaty and it doesn't matter. Before the intoxicating aroma of two bodies sweating it out on the sheets comes into play, you want to be damn sure you smell clean and fresh. Perfumes can overplay the sensation, so use it sparingly. Nothing says sexy like a soapy clean body with other natural scents apparent.
3. Do you look your best? Are you alluring? It is important to look sexy, comely, and ready for anything when you take charge of the kiss! Get rid of gum! The sound associated with this next kiss should be subtle moans, and maybe a slight smack of enjoyment. Save the porn ecstatic screams for sex.

4. And now finally touch! We have covered all the senses, except touch. Most people begin the open mouthed kiss with a gratuitous grope! STOP! Kissing should be an intimate exchange that can lead to other things, but if you begin with a hand full of cock or pussy, where do have to go from there? The kiss should be long and lingering. Soft at first.

Lean into your partner and with lips slightly parted, brush your lips against the waiting lips of your mate. Turn your head slightly right or left whichever is most comfortable for the position you are in, and place your lips slightly wider than your partners.

Most people will respond trying to meet your kiss with the same openness. This may feel awkward at first, but you are in control. Lip to lip press slightly. Now move away. Nod your head in an upward motion and come back down to meet the waiting lips again.

Never give up control! Don't let him take you to the next step until all of the kissing steps are complete. The outcome? OUTRAGIOUS ORGASMS and more fun than you can shake a dick at!

Experiment with the brush by kissing a few times, then linger. NO TONGUE. You are not there yet. Open mouth, linger lip to lip. If your mate tries for the tongue, back up and gently let them know you have things under control and want to savor every moment. Move back in and kiss again with the brush effect. Don't stop.

Then gently, with lips slightly parted kiss their forehead, each cheek, the lips, and continue in a circular motion. Not fast, but go from cheek to lips, to other cheek to forehead to cheek and so on. You are driving your mate wild and they have no idea what is next to come.

FULL OPEN MOUTH KISS NO TONGUE

After you have made the round a few times, stop on the lips with a full open mouth kiss. No tongue. If you feel the tongue of your mate darting about, gently move away and go back a step. Pretty soon he will understand that until YOU are ready for the next step, they cannot move on.

Now move in again, full open mouth. This should be a long hot kiss. Add a slight moan. This low moan indicates that you are feeling the sexual tension and arousal. This helps your mate know you are reaching readiness.

Draw your body close to his. Feel each other's breath. Hear each other sighing or moaning in anticipation. Move along the side of the head and gently grasp the ear lobe in your mouth. Let it slip out and move to the other side. Do the same to the other ear. Now move back for a full on NO TONGUE open mouthed kiss.

Your partner should be about begging for more by now. Continue to kiss passionately, avoiding the tongue action. Your mate may be persistent but it's important to hold out until the final step, which is the complete French Kiss.

It is time to activate kiss number 5.

COMPLETE FRENCH KISS

There is nothing more arousing than a French kiss when done properly. The first thing to remember is that we are not hunting truffles or tonsils!

For those who think French kissing is all about the probe ability, you have it all wrong!

French kissing is sensual, arousing and when done correctly moistens even the coldest pussy and hardens the softest cock on the planet. French kissing should be followed by the open mouth kissing described previously. This open mouth kissing is the precursor to full on French Kisses that will ignite any fire.

When you begin the French kiss it is important to know what a true French kiss is. French kissing is tongue to tongue touching! Most people believe it is wallowing the tongue around in the other person's mouth, or biting. Both of which are a HUGE TURN OFF!

If you are into biting, the tongue is NOT the object you want to bite unless it is playful teeth glazing nips for arousal. Most people are not adept at that, so it's best to leave the biting to those with greater experience.

Gently touch your tongue to your partner's tongue. If you are afraid they are going to go for the shove, gently pull back so your tongue is out of your mouth slightly, and then encourage them to follow with their tongue. Touch tips, gently and then resume open mouth kissing with the tongues seeking each other.

It is rare that this type of kiss doesn't create the much anticipated hard on or wetness desired for sex. Continue kissing now moving in closer. This is the time when "crushing" into each other's open mouth is likely to happen. Push against your lover and probe gently with your tongue.

Again this is not to see how far you can get down their throat. This is a gentle sensual kiss of passion and anticipation.

Dart your tongue in and out of your partner's mouth. This stimulates the arousal and indicates readiness for intercourse. Don't move too fast, take time to be intimate with the kissing and exploring.

Remember that any and all of these steps can be repeated if there are interruptions, if you are more ready than your mate, or just to heighten the overall conclusion and climax. The more you linger in kissing and intimacy the stronger the orgasm.

Remember that if you are not comfortable with tongue to tongue kissing, you can elevate the open mouth kissing. For most the culmination of the French kiss is the signal that readiness has occurred. This is another reason you don't want to rush the steps.

Remember slow and steady build to a huge orgasm, while quick and hurried generally leaves you both wondering what happened.
